USA v. The Town of Oyster Bay et al - 3/19/15

3

1 COURTROOM DEPUTY: Calling case 14-cv-2317, United
2 States of America v. The Town of Oyster Bay et al. Counsel,
3 please state your appearance on the record.

4 MR. GOLDBERGER: Good morning, Your Honor. Michael 5 Goldberger, Assistant United States Attorney, for the United 6 States.

7 MR. MCFARLAND: Thomas Mcfarland, Assistant United
8 States Attorney, for the United States.

9 MR. HERMAN: Good morning, Your Honor. Anthony
10 Herman, of Covington & Burling, for the Town of Oyster Bay and 11 John Venditto.

12 MR. REYNOLDS: Good morning, Your Honor. Brett
13 Reynolds. Also of Covington & Burling, also for the Town of 14 Oyster Bay and others.

15 THE COURT: Good morning. Please be seated. Before
16 we get started, a couple of reminders. The only record we have 17 here is the microphone. So please speak into a microphone when 18 you address the Court. You do not need to stand to address the 19 Court. But if you prefer to stand, please use the lectern so
20 that you remain miked. Okay. That's it for ground rules.

21 We are here for a scheduling conference. Mr.
22 Goldberger, will you be addressing the Court?

23 MR. GOLDBERGER: Yes, Your Honor.

24 THE COURT: Well, why don't you tell me a little bit
25 about the case, please?

USA v. The Town of Oyster Bay et al - 3/19/15

4

1 MR. GOLDBERGER: Sure, Your Honor. The Town of Oyster
2 Bay has two housing programs, which it has developed. One back
3 in the '90s and one more recently in the 2000s. Known as the 4 Golden Age Program, in the 1990s it was started, and the Next
5 Generation Program, which is the more recent program. Under 6 both, the Town offers developers incentives to build additional 7 units more so than the zoning laws ordinarily require -- or 8 permit rather. In exchange, the developers offer some units at 9 a lower price as affordable housing.

10 The Next Generation Program was geared toward 11 individuals who were senior citizens and the -- I'm sorry. The 12 Gold Age Program was for senior citizens, and the Next
13 Generation Program was geared towards first time homebuyers;
14 generally speaking, young families. Both programs have 15 residency preferences injected into them, so that applicants for 16 this kind of housing, although privately developed, the Town
17 controls who gets the units. And it's through a lottery system,
18 but the lottery has a heavy preference for Town residents.

19 The result of that is that virtually all of the units
20 under both programs have gone to White Town residents, to the 21 exclusion of African Americans. Thereby having a discriminatory
22 impact and we believe intentionally discriminatory against 23 African Americans in the Town, partly evidenced by the fact, as 24 we plead in our complaint, that statistically the eligible
25 population outside the Town of Oyster Bay is considerably more

USA v. The Town of Oyster Bay et al - 3/19/15

5

1 diverse and there's a larger percentage of units that would have
2 gone to African Americans had the Town not had the residency
3 preference. So we're challenging this under the Fair Housing
4 Act for discriminating against African Americans. Not because
5 of the program itself, but because of the residency preferences
6 that are interjected into the program.

7 THE COURT: So, it's a disparate impact case? Or 8 impact in the disparate treatment case?

9 MR. GOLDBERGER: Both, Your Honor.

10 THE COURT: But the evidence is apparently stronger
11 for the disparate impact case at this point?

12 MR. GOLDBERGER: The evidence is certainly stronger
13 for the disparate impact because we have done statistical 14 analysis, and we do not believe, as we have learned during our 15 investigation, that there's any legitimate bona fide
16 governmental interest in having the residency preference in 17 place.

18 THE COURT: Okay. And who will be speaking for the 19 Defendants?

20 MR. HERMAN: Your Honor, I will, Anthony Herman.

21 THE COURT: Okay.

22 MR. HERMAN: Your Honor, in general terms, Mr.
23 Goldberger has accurately described the two programs. The 24 disparate impact theory is now pending before the Supreme Court,
25 as you know. And we think that it's likely, although predicting

USA v. The Town of Oyster Bay et al - 3/19/15

6

1 what the Supreme Court is going to do is a hazardous enterprise;
2 we think it's likely the Supreme Court is going to overturn that
3 theory under the Fair Housing Act. Even if it survives,
4 however, we think that disparate impact is a very thin read in 5 this case.

6 The fact is, I think what the Government is really
7 seeking to do is to re-engineer a town to mirror other
8 communities, and we think that's an improper use. We think
9 that's quintessentially racial balancing and racial engineering.
10 And we don't think that's what the Fair Housing Act is designed 11 to do. We're confident that the jury will see it that way. If 12 the Supreme Court throws out the theory, then the United States
13 is left with a disparate treatment case that this theory in 14 search of evidence, there's virtually no evidence.

15 Judge Spatt pointed to a statement by Supervisor
16 Venditto referring to "our people". That relates, by the way,
17 only to the Next Generation Program that's for the young people
18 of the Town. But in our view, no jury will conclude that that's 19 a sufficient basis for racial discrimination, because after all,
20 it is a community that does include some 15 percent of Latinos
21 and some smaller percentage of African Americans. And 22 obviously, Mr. Venditto is referring by "our people" to the 23 entirety of Oyster Bay, including Latinos and African Americans
24 and Asians for that matter who reside there.

25 THE COURT: Okay. So your sense is it's a -- it's not

USA v. The Town of Oyster Bay et al - 3/19/15

7

1 a summary judgment case at least on the disparate impact
2 treatment claim?

3 MR. HERMAN: Well, we think it should be.

4 THE COURT: I'm not saying you're giving up your
5 rights to summary judgment. Don't get me wrong.

6 MR. HERMAN: No, no. I think based on Judge Spatt's
7 ruling, I'm optimistic that we're going to get a summary
8 judgment decision that's favorable. My own view with respect to 9 Judge Spatt is that it should be a summary judgment case. I
10 don't think on the facts that have been adduced, and the facts
11 that -- and by the way, those facts have been adduced following
12 an extensive investigation by the United States, in which they 13 interviewed some 20 witnesses from the Town. The Town was fully 14 cooperative. And based on that --

15 THE COURT: The witnesses -- oh. So they were 16 represented by you at the time of the investigation?

17 MR. HERMAN: They were not represented by us.

18 THE COURT: No? Okay.

19 MR. GOLDBERGER: They were represented by other
20 counsel, Your Honor.

21 MR. HERMAN: That's right.

22 THE COURT: Okay. So, you have the results of 23 whatever that was; those interviews. Okay.

24 MR. HERMAN: Yes. More or less.

25 THE COURT: Okay. In any event, based on that fact

USA v. The Town of Oyster Bay et al - 3/19/15

8

1 that all that the United States, despite their best efforts,
2 could elicit was this one statement from Mr. Venditto. We think
3 on that basis, no reasonable jury could conclude that either of 4 these programs was intended to discriminate against African 5 Americans.

6 THE COURT: Okay. I've looked at the submissions.
7 The discovery calendar looks a little long, but I realize this
8 could be a larger than normal case. I understand what he 9 Government wants, approximately 20 depositions, and the 10 Defendants don't. Okay. I'm not going to make a ruling on that 11 right now. But what I'll do is, given the nature of this, I'll 12 so-order the dates you provided in terms of deadlines. My 13 practice would be to have the Government take what the 14 depositions are allowed, meaning up to ten, and if you feel like 15 you need more, you can certainly speak to your adversary first
16 and say not only do we need more, but here's why. And then, Mr.
17 Herman, you can make an educated decision about how you want to 18 proceed. And if you can't agree, you'll send me a motion, and 19 we'll give you a ruling.

20 MR. HERMAN: Thank you, Your Honor.

21 THE COURT: But I'd like to put it through its paces.
22 That being said, after documentary discovery, I like to have a
23 status conference to see if there are any issues on the horizon
24 that we could head off without full blown motion practice. So
25 looking at your schedule, why don't we put a status --

USA v. The Town of Oyster Bay et al - 3/19/15

9

1 MR. GOLDBERGER: Your Honor, if I might?

2 THE COURT: Sure.

3 MR. GOLDBERGER: I'm sorry to interrupt. The
4 submission that we made on February 19 --

5 THE COURT: Yes.

6 MR. GOLDBERGER: -- was premised on the conference
7 having been a couple of weeks ago. So in fact, written
8 discovery was supposed to have been served several days ago
9 according to the schedule.

10 THE COURT: Right.

11 MR. GOLDBERGER: We'd like -- and Mr. Herman and I
12 discussed this. We'd like to try to just move everything.

13 THE COURT: Oh, that hasn't happened?

14 MR. GOLDBERGER: It hasn't happened. No, Your Honor.

15 THE COURT: Oh, okay. Yeah. Let's -- we should get 16 to that toot sweet. Where are you then?

17 MR. GOLDBERGER: Well, we would like --

18 THE COURT: Rule 26 disclosures have been made?

19 MR. GOLDBERGER: Rule 26 disclosures have been made,
20 Your Honor.

21 THE COURT: Okay.

22 MR. GOLDBERGER: It's simply a matter I think if we 23 could move everything a couple of weeks commensurate with the 24 re-scheduling of the conference --

25 THE COURT: All right. Let's do this in order then.

USA v. The Town of Oyster Bay et al - 3/19/15

10

1 Because what I was just going to do is issue a revised order.
2 But let's see if we can agree on some dates. So you need a
3 couple of weeks you said to get the discovery out?

4 MR. GOLDBERGER: I think a couple of weeks would be
5 fine for us, Your Honor. So that we would get out the written -
6 - well, today is the --

7 THE COURT: Today is the --

8 MR. GOLDBERGER: I've lost track of the date.

9 THE COURT: -- the 19th.

10 MR. GOLDBERGER: The 19th. So if we could have two 11 weeks from tomorrow to get out the discovery that would be 12 great, Judge.

13 THE COURT: All right. April 3. Responses, May 4.
14 I'll give you a status conference for the third week of May.

15 MR. GOLDBERGER: Sure, Your Honor.

16 THE COURT: That's really to my deputy.

17 MR. GOLDBERGER: Oh, I'm sorry.

18 THE COURT: May 21 at 11:30. My general practice is 19 to give you a deadline for joining new parties or amending the 20 pleadings for some time shortly after that conference. And then 21 we can discuss whether you think that it's necessary to extend 22 the deadline at that time. But I've noticed in your proposed
23 order, you had a long lead time for amendment of the pleadings.
24 And so I'm wondering why.

25 MR. GOLDBERGER: I think we were just following the

USA v. The Town of Oyster Bay et al - 3/19/15

11

1 order of the ruling, Your Honor. I think there was no
2 particular reason.

3 THE COURT: Okay.

4 MR. GOLDBERGER: I don't know that we have any
5 amendment that we are anticipating to our complaint.

6 THE COURT: Okay.

7 MR. GOLDBERGER: The one issue I would raise, if I
8 may, is that we've discussed between us the fact that there are 9 a couple of defenses that the Defendants have asserted that they
10 have agreed are not valid defenses.

11 THE COURT: Okay.

12 MR. GOLDBERGER: To use a loose word if I may. And we 13 requested that the Defendants just amend their pleading to 14 remove those defenses. And we've had some discussion about 15 that. I don't know how far we've gotten with it, other than the 16 response I got was we promise not to assert it.

17 MR. HERMAN: There are several defenses, Your Honor,
18 that the Defendants are not going to go forward with. We've
19 represented to the Government that we're not going to go forward
20 with them.

21 THE COURT: Right.

22 MR. HERMAN: And if the Government wants to move to 23 strike them, we will consent to Government.

24 THE COURT: Well, I would just suggest a stipulation.
25 Literally a half a page stipulation, and you can do that if you

USA v. The Town of Oyster Bay et al - 3/19/15

12

1 want. I'm going to give you a deadline for amendment of the
2 pleadings until June 5. If any of this changes or the issue is 3 still live at the point of the next status conference, we'll
4 raise it there. And if you need an order of some kind, we can 5 talk about just doing that.

6 MR. GOLDBERGER: It would almost be easier if the 7 Defendants just filed an amended answer. We can do it on 8 consent and they could just delete the paragraphs.

9 THE COURT: If you want to do it that way, that's 10 fine.

11 MR. HERMAN: We're happy to enter into a stipulation,
12 Your Honor.

13 THE COURT: A one-page stipulation is fine as well. I
14 don't want to make more out of this than it is.

15 MR. HERMAN: Yes.

16 MR. GOLDBERGER: No, no. Nor do I, Your Honor.

17 THE COURT: Okay. All right. Completion of fact
18 depositions which I have here was December. I think what I
19 would actually like to do is keep the December deadline for now,
20 and then at the status conference or at some other time, you can 21 raise it once the idea of more than ten depositions.

22 MR. GOLDBERGER: Sure.

23 THE COURT: You know, it's one thing to say you need
24 more than ten depositions; it's another thing to say you need
25 15, as opposed to, I don't know how many more depositions we're

USA v. The Town of Oyster Bay et al - 3/19/15

13

1 going to need. So why don't we leave that for 12/15 for now.

2 MR. GOLDBERGER: Okay.

3 THE COURT: Experts. My guess, and particularly in
4 cases like this; to the degree you need experts, Mr. Goldberger,
5 you already know who your experts are.

6 MR. GOLDBERGER: We do, Your Honor.

7 THE COURT: Okay. So, I'm going to -- I like to run -
8 - under those circumstances, I run the deadline for 9 identification of case in chief experts coincident with the end
10 of fact discovery. Because you don't need the extra time to 11 look at whatever the last transcript is going to say --

12 MR. GOLDBERGER: That's fine, Your Honor.

13 THE COURT: -- before you do it. And then I'll give 14 45 days for identification of rebuttal experts, which will put 15 you at February -- I'm going to say February 28.

16 MR. GOLDBERGER: I'm sorry. I've gotten lost, Your 17 Honor. So we're completing the fact witness depositions on 18 12/15?

19 THE COURT: Right. That will be the same date for 20 identification of case in chief experts and Rule 26 disclosures.
21 And then February 28. So 45 days later, for the rebuttal
22 experts. Is that --

23 MR. GOLDBERGER: That's not 45 days, Your Honor.

24 THE COURT: Is the 28th a Sunday?

25 MR. GOLDBERGER: I think that's why I was confused.

USA v. The Town of Oyster Bay et al - 3/19/15

14

1 THE COURT: It's a Sunday. All right. So we're going
2 to make it March 1.

3 MR. GOLDBERGER: That's three and a half months.

4 THE COURT: For disclosure of rebuttal experts because
5 the 28th is a Sunday. And then I'll schedule a final pre-trial
6 conference -- oh, no; I'm sorry. The deadline for the 7 commencement of summary judgment motion practice. I think for 8 Judge Spatt, you just need a pre-motion conference. I will 9 check that.

10 MR. HERMAN: I think you have to file a --

11 THE COURT: 56 statement first?

12 MR. HERMAN: The 56(1).

13 THE COURT: Yeah. Okay.

14 MR. HERMAN: And you exchange them essentially. And 15 then request the conference.

16 THE COURT: Okay. That actually sounds right. So why
17 don't I -- I'll give you a little more time because I know
18 putting that together in these cases can be a bit of a bear.
19 Why don't we say April 1 for that deadline? And that's just for 20 the commencement of summary judgment motion practice. What I'll 21 do is give you a pre-trial conference date for the third week in 22 April. And if summary judgments start, we can talk about 23 modifying that date depending on the motion. Judge Spatt has 24 become far more lenient in recent years in terms of getting
25 ready for trial, even if a motion is pending.

USA v. The Town of Oyster Bay et al - 3/19/15

15

1 So, what do we have, Kristen, the third week of April?

2 COURTROOM DEPUTY: April 21.

3 THE COURT: April 21 at?

4 (Cross-talk.)

5 THE COURT: At noon. We'll post an order on ECF
6 tonight so you'll have all the dates. And I think with those 7 dates, we're at least set for the moment, and we'll see you in 8 May. Is there anything else we need to discuss?

9 MR. GOLDBERGER: I don't think so, Your Honor. I
10 think that pretty much covers everything that we had.

11 MR. HERMAN: No, thank you, Your Honor.

12 THE COURT: All right. Thank you, all. We're 13 concluded.

14 MR. GOLDBERGER: Thank you, Your Honor.
